While available information and success stories of Hyperbaric Oxygen Therapy (HBOT) for a variety of conditions continues to grow, HBOT for most families remains an out-of-pocket expense. Chambers are often hours away (if at all), and the time constraints of a daily regimen when combined with the costs prohibit many families from trying or continuing despite noticeable improvements.

HyperbaricsRx specializes in safe, affordable Portable Hyperbaric Chamber systems for home (or clinic) use. We offer a complete selection of equipment and accessories to customize your system for optimal benefit, comfort and ease of operation. Our personable and patient staff of ANDI certified technicians and instructors will answer your questions so you can make the right equipment choices the first time.

Our systems are extremely easy to use, we will even come to your home (or office) to install the system and train your family (or staff). We will deal with all the "boxes in the corner" completely removing any set up concerns you may initially have. When we're done your family (or staff) will be comfortable with the system, the safety aspects, operations, equipment care and so much more. This is just another example of our unsurpassed customer support, care and service. Experience the HyperbaricsRx difference today.
